2.3 Risk Management

Purpose

Risk management is an integral part of sound management practice and an essential element of good corporate governance. The purpose of this policy is to ensure consistency in consideration of risks and advantages in the decisions made by the Grande Prairie Public Library (GPPL) with respect to both policies and operations.

Definition

To GPPL, risk management means the forecasting and evaluation of risks together with the identification of procedures to avoid or minimize their impact.

Guiding Principles

- GPPL will maintain a risk intelligent culture that is innovative and proactive in identifying, assessing and managing risk.
- Risk management will be incorporated into the strategic and operational planning processes at all levels within GPPL.
- Risk will be imbedded into GPPL's decision-making processes to allow a balanced decision making approach that considers all aspects while allowing for advancement and innovation.
- Risk management will be considered in the context of alignment with GPPL's mission, vision and values.

Risk Categories

In order to build a cohesive risk intelligent culture, it is important to identify the numerous risks faced by GPPL. GPPL maintains a schedule of risk categories that is reviewed by the Library Director on a regular basis.

Decision Making Process

GPPL Board and employees use a number of considerations when making risk management decisions. The consistent application of these considerations will help GPPL develop a risk informed response that uses limited resources most effectively.

Roles and Responsibilities

GPPL Board and employees all have roles and responsibilities in contributing to GPPL's management of risk:

Front-line employees

- Are responsible for following prescribed risk management practices in the context of their daily tasks

Management team

- Will ensure employees within their departments understand their responsibilities with respect to operational risk
- Are responsible for implementing good risk management practices in their departments
- Will assist in fostering a risk aware culture within GPPL

2.5 Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act, in Alberta, aims to strike a balance between the public's right to know and the individual's right to privacy, as those rights relate to information held by public bodies.

This law was proclaimed October 1, 1995, and now affects all provincial government departments, agencies, boards and commissions, school boards, health care bodies, post-secondary educational institutions, and local government. The Grande Prairie Public Library came under this legislation October 1, 1999.

The Alberta legislation can be found at Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

The FOIP Act provides that Albertans have

- the right to request access to information held by the Library,
- the right to access personal information about themselves held by the Library,
- the right to request correction to their personal information held by the Library,
- controls on the collection, use and disclosure of personal information by the Library, and

Trustee Orientation

- At the orientation session, new Board members will receive a Board orientation binder, and will be provided with a tour of GPPL.
- New Board members are encouraged to attend a Board Basics Workshop facilitated by the provincial Public Library Services Branch. Board members who have attended the workshop previously are encouraged to participate regularly to refresh their knowledge.

Continuing Education

- Board members are encouraged to attend library conferences and workshops. Funds are allocated for two Board members to attend the annual joint conference of the Library Association of Alberta and the Alberta Trustees Association; however, at the discretion of the Board Chair, this may be overridden by the needs of the Board. Priority is given to Board members who have not attended previous LAA/ALTA conferences.
- Board members will provide a verbal report to the Board following their attendance at a conference or workshop.
- The Library Director will provide the Board with information on learning opportunities.

SECTION 8 – LIBRARY MATERIALS

8.1 Collection Management

Definitions

“Collection” refers to a grouping of library materials.

"Library materials", or other synonyms as they may occur in the policy refer to all information and leisure collections the Grande Prairie Public Library (GPPL) makes available to the public including books in all formats, magazines, newspapers, visual media, and online databases, excepting the Internet.

"Selection" refers to the decision that must be made either to add a given item to the collection or to retain one already in the collection. It does not refer to reader guidance.

Purpose of the Collection Management Policy

The purpose of GPPL’s Collection Management policy is to guide library staff and inform the public about the principles upon which collection development, maintenance, and reconsideration decisions are made. The following principles have as their basis the Canadian Federation of Library Associations’ Statement on Intellectual Freedom, which the Grande Prairie Public Library Board accepts as policy.

Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries

(Approval history: June 27, 1974; Amended November 17, 1983; November 18, 1985; and September 2, 2015)

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations recognizes and values the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms as the guarantor of the fundamental freedoms in Canada of conscience and religion; of thought, belief, opinion, and expression; of peaceful assembly; and of association.

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations supports and promotes the universal principles of intellectual freedom as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which include the interlocking freedoms to hold opinions and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

In accordance with these principles, the Canadian Federation of Library Associations affirms that all persons in Canada have a fundamental right, subject only to the Constitution and the law, to have access to the full range of knowledge, imagination, ideas, and opinion, and to express their thoughts publicly. Only the courts may abridge free expression rights in Canada.

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations affirms further that libraries have a core responsibility to support, defend and promote the universal principles of intellectual freedom and privacy.

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations holds that libraries are a key institution in Canada for rendering expressive content accessible and affordable to all. Libraries are essential gateways for all persons living in Canada to advance themselves through literacy, lifelong learning, social engagement, and cultural enrichment.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and facilitate access to constitutionally protected expressions of knowledge, imagination, ideas, and opinion, including those which some individuals and groups consider unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable. To this end, in accordance with their mandates and professional values and standards, libraries provide, defend and promote equitable access to the widest possible variety of expressive content and resist calls for censorship and the adoption of systems that deny or restrict access to resources.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and foster free expression and the right to safe and welcoming places and conditions. To this end, libraries make available their public spaces and services to individuals and groups without discrimination.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and defend privacy in the individual's pursuit of expressive content. To this end, libraries protect the identities and activities of library users except when required by the courts to cede them.

Furthermore, in accordance with established library policies, procedures and due process, libraries resist efforts to limit the exercise of these responsibilities while recognizing the right of criticism by individuals and groups.

Library employees, volunteers and employers as well as library governing entities have a core responsibility to uphold the principles of intellectual freedom in the performance of their respective library roles.

Works are selected on the basis of content without regard to the personal history, sex, race, nationality or political or religious views of the creator.

The presence of any item in the library does not indicate an endorsement of its content by the library.

The library also recognizes an immediate duty to make available materials for entertainment and recreation, even though such materials may not have enduring interest or value. If public demand warrants it, the library will provide a representative sampling of experimental and ephemeral material, but will not attempt to be exhaustive.

All staff members selecting library materials will be expected to keep these objectives in mind and apply their professional knowledge and experience in making decisions.

Scope

In general, GPPL's collection will include but not be limited to the following formats:

- books
- periodicals (magazines)
- newspapers
- visual media (such as CDs, DVDs, Blu-ray)
- digital resources (such as e-books and audio-books)
- online databases
- government documents
- microfilm
- toys
- electronic devices

Other formats will be considered as demand, need, and budget permit.

Archival Collections

GPPL houses several collections of archival records including newspapers on microfilm, photographs and newspaper index cards.

The Board may seek to acquire by way of donation, bequest, permanent loan or other arrangements further archival records of an enduring nature, in any format, which reflect the history of City of Grande Prairie and District.

Hauge Legacy Collection

The objective of the Hague Legacy is to locate and purchase works about and of the Peace River Region with a view to acquiring and maintaining a permanent special collection. The collection may be comprised of books, periodicals and audio-visual materials. Popular and inexpensive materials will circulate. A special area will be set aside in the library for the collection. Expensive and rare materials will only be used in the library.

Toys

GPPL maintains a lending library of educational toys in the Children's Department. These toys may be borrowed only by library patrons who have completed a further registration for the Toy Library. This further registration limits the liability of GPPL for any damage or injury that might arise from the use of the toys by children.

Responsibility for Collection Management

Ultimate responsibility for the selection and de-selection of all materials lies with the Library Director who operates within the framework of policies determined by the Board. However, he/she will delegate to Department Heads the authority to implement the policy in making day-to-day selections. Unusual problems will be referred to the Library Director for resolution.

Use of Library Materials

GPPL recognizes that some materials may be controversial and that any given item may offend some patrons. The ultimate responsibility for their choice of materials rests with the patron.

Library materials will not be marked or identified to show approval or disapproval of contents, and no library materials will be sequestered, except for the express purpose of protecting it from injury or theft.

The use of rare and scholarly items of great value may be controlled to the extent required to preserve them from harm, but no further.

Responsibility for the use of library materials by children rests with their parents and legal guardians. Selection of adult material will not be restricted by the possibility that children may obtain materials that their parents may consider inappropriate.

Collection Development

The primary objective of selection shall be to acquire materials of contemporary significance and of permanent value. The library will always be guided by a sense of responsibility to both present and future in adding materials that will enrich the collection and maintain an overall balance.

GPPL attempts to make available a wide diversity of views and expressions, including those which may be viewed as unorthodox or which may be unpopular.

The selection of library materials is based on the following:

- The need for recreational reading, listening and viewing material to reflect a diverse community with differing tastes, interests, purposes and education
- The need to deal in an informative and balanced manner with social, personal, racial, multicultural, religious and scientific issues
- The need to provide as broad a base as possible of information and literature.

Criteria for the Selection of Materials

The following criteria will be considered when selecting material for the library; however, it is impossible to establish a set of criteria for the indisputable acceptance or rejection of material. Items need not meet all the criteria to be acceptable.

- Suitability of physical format for library use
- Relation to the existing collection and other material on the subject
- Availability of funds and space
- Favourable reviews
- Popular demand
- Balance of viewpoints in the collection
- Value as a contribution to issues of continuing or topical interest; timeliness
- Currency
- Local interest
- Representation of an important movement, genre and/or culture
- Accuracy of information
- Quality of writing
- Identified area for collection development focus

The selection of local or self-published materials will be subject to the above criteria.

GPPL is sympathetic to the needs of students, but it is not the primary responsibility of GPPL to provide curriculum-centered materials in the collection. Textbooks and other curriculum-related materials are not acquired except as they also serve the general public.

The exception to this is the French Language Resources collection which is a joint collaboration between many school boards and GPPL.

Suggestions for Purchase

GPPL encourages and invites suggestions from the public for the addition of specific items to the collection. These suggestions will be referred to the selector responsible for that collection area. Suggested items will then be considered according to selection criteria. Receipt of suggestions does not imply automatic acceptance of the item for the library collection.

If a suggested item is not purchased, GPPL may be able to obtain it through interlibrary loan for the person who suggested the item for purchase, if that person is interested in borrowing the item.

Collection Maintenance

The following criteria will be used when considering material for removal from the collection:

- The worth of the item in comparison to new works in the same subject areas
- The usefulness of the item to the public
- The amount of available space
- The item's currency and accuracy
- The physical condition of the item
- The availability of funds for purchasing replacement material

Discarded items will be handled through such means as sale, donation or recycling.

Library Materials Vendors

The Grande Prairie Public Library will acquire its materials through the Peace Library System, but should the situation arise where an independent vendor is required, the following criteria will be used by Library staff to select a vendor:

- positive relationship with a vendor;
- price, including shipping, handling and invoicing charges;
- availability (fill rate);
- turnaround time from order to delivery;
- returns policies;
- availability of required cataloguing and processing services; and,
- Canadian and local vendors, all other things being equal

Reconsideration of Library Materials

GPPL recognizes the right of a library user to register an objection to the presence of any item or items, or the placement of materials in the collection. In the event of an objection or complaint by a library user, the following are the steps of resolution:

- The user is encouraged to put his/her complaint in writing using the Request for Reconsideration of Material form. Following a personal review of the item and a check of outside review sources, the Department Head will send a letter to respond to the user's concerns.
- If the user is not satisfied, the written complaint is reviewed and discussed jointly by the Department Head and the Library Director. A decision is made reflecting the principles of this Policy, and a written explanation for the decision is sent to the user.

- If the user is still not satisfied, he/she may appeal in writing to the Board. The Board will consider whether the selection criteria were appropriately applied and/or whether some aspects of the policy are inappropriate or outdated and should be reviewed. The Board's decision is final.

No material shall be removed from the collection due to a challenge from a library user prior to all relevant steps in the process being carried out.

8.2 Donations

Monetary Donations

- Tax receipts are issued by the Grande Prairie Public Library for all monetary donations of ten dollars ($10.00) or greater.
- Monetary donations can be allocated to specific areas of the library collection, to equipment or to facility enhancement. The Grande Prairie Public Library reserves the right, however, not to accept a monetary donation if the request is for items or facility enhancement deemed unsuitable or inappropriate for the library.

Donation of Library Materials

- The Grande Prairie Public Library reserves the right to accept or reject any donation of new or used books and other library materials.
- All donations become the property of the Grande Prairie Public Library and are subject to normal acquisition and disposal criteria applied to purchased materials.
- Tax receipts are not issued for donated library materials.

Other Materials

- The Grande Prairie Public Library will accept donations of non-collection items, including artwork, equipment, or other tangible property only if the items satisfy a definite need.
- All property donated becomes the exclusive property of the Grande Prairie Public Library. The Library may use or at any time dispose of the property in any way it sees fit.
- Tangible capital assets received as donations are recorded at fair market value at the date of receipt and are also recorded as revenue.

Library Values:

Donations must not undermine the integrity of the non-commercial public space that the Library provides. In developing sponsorship arrangements, the Library will:

- Safeguard the equity of access to library services and not allow sponsorship agreements to give an unfair advantage to, or cause discrimination against, any sectors of the community.
- Protect its principle of intellectual freedom and equity of access to its programs, services, and collections.

- Protect the confidentiality of user records.
- Not permit sponsors to have an undue impact on the policies and practices of the Library or information provided by the Library (eg. materials selection, purchasing, or web content) or to influence or alter the basic goals and objectives of Library programs.

8.3 Intellectual Freedom

The Grande Prairie Public Library subscribes to the Canadian Federation of Library Associations' Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries:

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations recognizes and values the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms as the guarantor of the fundamental freedoms in Canada of conscience and religion; of thought, belief, opinion, and expression; of peaceful assembly; and of association.

9.1 Programs

Purpose

In the provision of its programs, the Grande Prairie Public Library (GPPL) abides by the Canadian Federation of Library Associations' 2015 Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries, specifically:

- GPPL staff are responsible for completing all necessary program planning documentation, in order to maximize programming efficiency and accountability

Other programs

- GPPL may collaborate with other organizations to plan and offer programs and events, in order to maximize community impact

GPPL staff will follow established procedures when responding to concerns, questions or complaints about programs.

9.2 Provision of Service to Those Unable to Use Conventional Print

Definition

Print-disabled users include any user who has a perceptual disability, defined in the federal Copyright Act as “a disability that prevents or inhibits a person from reading or hearing a literary, musical, dramatic or artistic work in its original format, and includes such a disability resulting from:

- (a) severe or total impairment of sight or hearing or the inability to focus or move one’s eyes,
- (b) the inability to hold or manipulate a book, or

Commitment

The Grande Prairie Public Library (GPPL) Board believes those unable to use conventional print materials should have full access to library services, and will endeavor to incorporate appropriate services and materials for print-disabled users.

- These materials will be provided in a format appropriate to the user, subject to user needs and preferences, availability of materials, and within appropriate financial limits.
- GPPL will cooperate with national, provincial and local community agencies in this effort.
